

HELP WANTED

Welcome all!

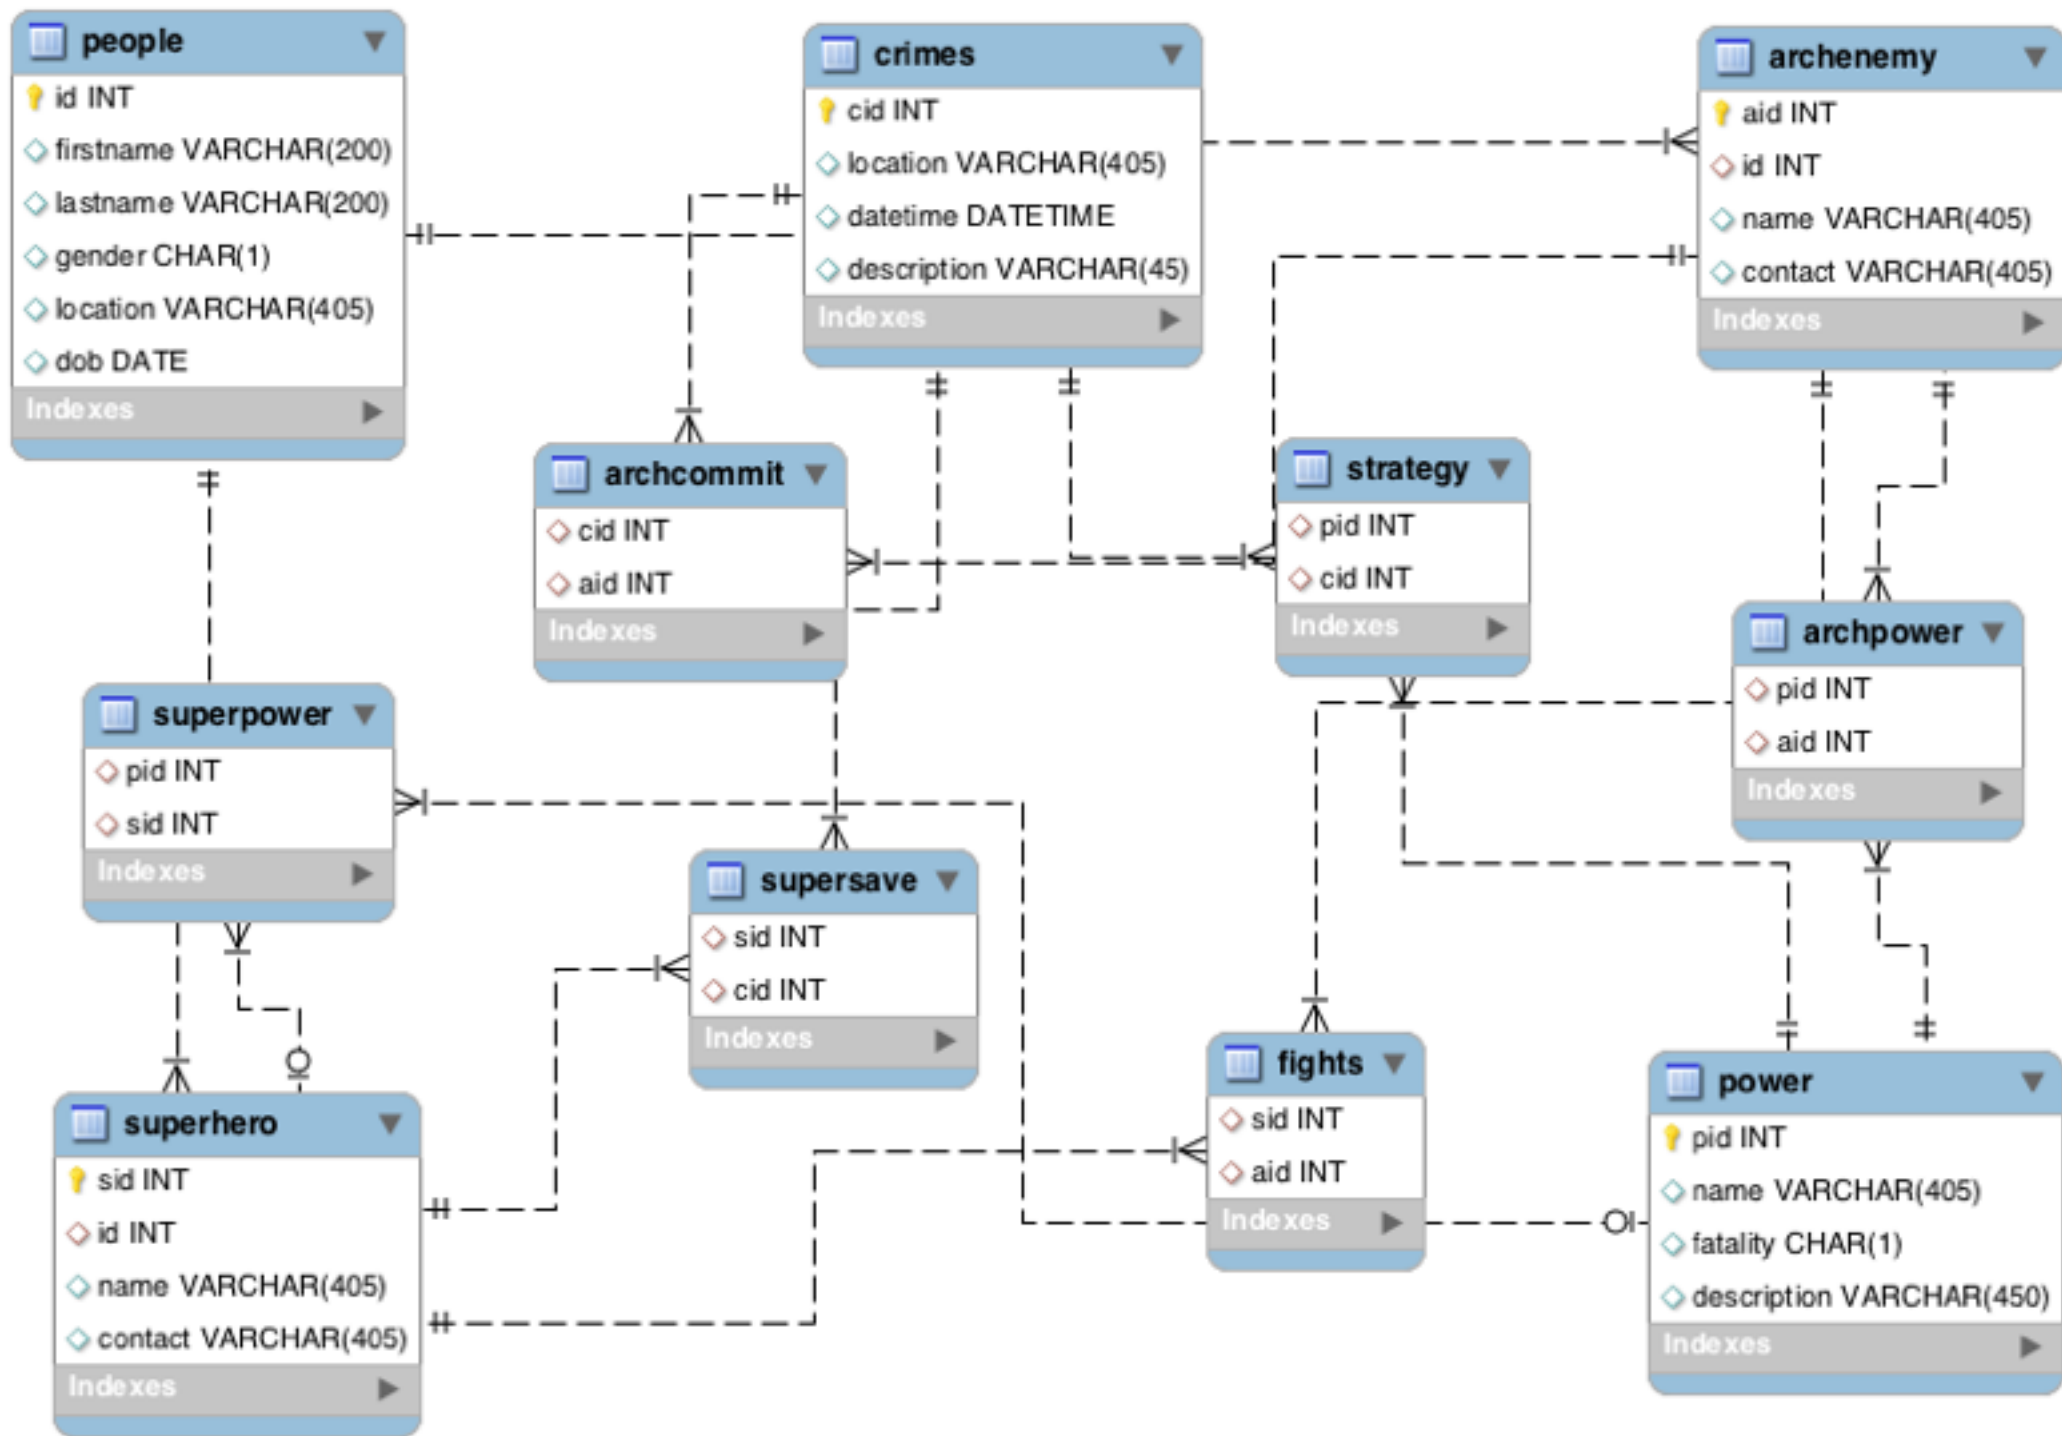

HELP WANTED is a relational database designed by Navraj Narula.

Due to the heavy amount of crime plaguing many nations, good-doers such as policemen, firemen, and federal bureau agents have not found it feasible to keep track of every mis-happening. Furthermore, superhuman abilities have begun to emerge. By the year 2024, at least 15% of all humans will have a power. Some use these as gifts; others as curses—and it is those who use their powers for unpleasantness that have caused a 79% increase in crime rates all over the world.

In an effort to cleanse each community from terror, HELP WANTED offers itself as a service to organizations affiliated with the government, police force, and any other registered institution that seeks extra assistance in solving a crime. Queries can be made to search for specific superheroes, archenemies, powers, and crimes. A listing of all information regarding all humans on the planet is also available.

Let us help you to save the world.
